WEBSITE PROPOSAL · JUNE 2026

A new website for Container World

A fast, modern, conversion-built website for South Africa's leading container specialist, designed to turn visitors into quote requests, with GET A QUOTE front and centre and SEO baked in.

Prepared for the team at Container World

Searchly Web

Fast, high-converting websites for South African businesses

Seth Gorton

sethg@searchly.co.za · searchlyweb.co.za

The opportunity

Container World is the established leader: 40 years of trading, around 13 branches nationwide, multiple divisions and a brand with real equity. The website does not yet do that stature justice, and it is quietly costing you enquiries.

Buyers researching containers, conversions, reefers, offshore units or self-storage are landing on a site that does not convert. There is no hero value proposition telling them what you do and why you, the quote form is buried behind a separate page, the imagery is weak, and the trust signals you have earned over four decades are scattered rather than shown with confidence. For a national leader, the current site under-sells the business and lets warmer competitors win the contact.

What we are proposing

A complete, modern rebuild that does one job above all: it turns more visitors into quote requests. Every page is designed around your primary action, GET A QUOTE, and the whole site is rebuilt fast, credible and easy for your team to maintain, while keeping the Container World red and blue brand you have built equity in.

GET A QUOTE, made effortless

We put a short quote form above the fold and a persistent GET A QUOTE button on every page and device, so a serious buyer can request pricing in seconds instead of hunting for a contact page. Removing that friction is the single biggest lever on enquiry volume, and we are leaning into it hard.

You can see the direction now. The live concept mockup at seth-gorton.github.io/searchly-mockups/containerworld shows the look, feel and structure on your own brand. It is a concept to react to, not the finished site: imagery and content are refined together during the build. It already keeps the Container World red and blue.

What we will improve

We audited the current site against one question: does it move a visitor toward a quote? These are the changes that will make the biggest difference.

01 A quote form above the fold

02 A real hero with a value proposition

A strong opening that states what you do and why you, on high-impact container photography, instead of an abstract graphic and a wall of grey.

03 An above-the-fold service grid

Storage, conversions, refrigerated, office, tanktainers, offshore and self-storage, each scannable from the top so buyers self-select fast and reach the right page with its own quote CTA.

04 A consolidated trust and proof bar

40 years, ISO 9001, SAOGA, CSTA, BIC and 13 branches, brought together into one confidence strip beside the primary CTA instead of scattered badges.

05 Click-to-call and branch directory surfaced

Tap-to-call numbers in the header and a clear "find your nearest branch" path with addresses and a per-branch quote CTA, so buyers reach the right people quickly.

06 A fast, modern rebuild on your brand

A lighter, quicker, award-level rebuild with optimised imagery, tightened layout and a performance budget, keeping your red and blue and staying easy for the team to edit.

✓ Quote-first

GET A QUOTE always within reach, on every page and device.

What is included

A complete, custom-designed multi-division website, built around your products, divisions and branches, on the Container World brand.

01 Home

A strong, credible first impression with a value proposition, the service grid, the proof bar and an immediate quote path.

02 About / The Company

The 40-year story, accreditations and national footprint, the trust that wins serious B2B work.

03 Service and product pages

Storage, conversions, refrigerated, office, ablution, tanktainers, multi-house, offshore and more, each its own page (great for SEO and clarity).

04 Divisions

Sales, rental, conversions, offshore and self-storage routed clearly so each audience reaches its own conversion path.

05 Branch directory and location pages

The ~13 branches, each with address, click-to-call, area served and a local GET A QUOTE.

06 Get a quote / Contact

The short quote form, click-to-call and email, all designed for action.

Final page structure is confirmed with you during the build. The location-page strategy is kept for local SEO and strengthened so pages are not near-duplicates.

How we build it

Built to convert (conversion rate optimisation)

"Conversion" means a visitor taking the action you want, in your case, requesting a quote. We design the whole site around GET A QUOTE as the primary action, not WhatsApp: clear messaging, a service grid for fast self-selection, the trust signals you have earned, friction removed, and an obvious quote path on every page. After launch we keep watching the numbers and tuning to lift the share of visitors who convert.

Built to be found: SEO fundamentals baked in

Searchly Web is the website arm of Searchly, a Google Ads and SEO focused agency. Search is what we do, so your site is built on solid SEO fundamentals from the first line of code:

- ✓ Clean, fast, semantically structured code search engines can read easily
- ✓ Dedicated product and division pages targeting how buyers actually search
- ✓ Strengthened location pages and local SEO signals across the branch network
- ✓ Structured data and a crawlable structure that give you the best foundation to rank

This groundwork makes any future SEO or Google Ads work far more effective.

Built so you can see what works

We install analytics and conversion tracking so every quote request is measured, turning your website from a brochure into a tool you can improve, and powering smarter marketing decisions later.

Ownership, hosting and domain

You own your website outright. We make the technical side simple, even though hosting is not something we provide.

✓ The website is yours

Once the project is complete and paid, the website belongs entirely to Container World. No monthly fee to Searchly, no lock-in. It is your asset.

✓ You stay in control

Your hosting and domain stay in your name with your provider. That is deliberately better for you: full ownership and never dependent on us to stay online.

To be completely clear: Searchly Web does not provide hosting. Hosting (the service that keeps your website online) and your domain (containerworld.co.za) are held directly with a hosting provider. They are an ongoing cost paid to that provider, not to us, and are not included in the build fee.

But you will not be left to figure it out

While we do not sell hosting, we will assist you through the entire setup. We will:

- ✓ Advise you on a suitable hosting setup, in plain language
- ✓ Set your new website up on your hosting account
- ✓ Point your domain correctly so your web address works as it should
- ✓ Make sure the site goes live properly, securely and without downtime

We handle the full technical setup so the move to the new site is smooth, with your existing pages redirected correctly to protect your search rankings.

WEBSITE PROPOSAL · JUNE 2026

A new website for Container World Offshore

A fast, credible, conversion-built website for your certified offshore and marine container business, designed to turn high-value B2B buyers into qualified quote requests, with a real quote path and SEO baked in.

Prepared for the team at Container World Offshore

Searchly Web

Fast, high-converting websites for South African businesses

Seth Gorton

sethg@searchly.co.za · searchlyweb.co.za

The opportunity

You are a substantial, 40-year offshore and marine container business. Your website does not yet say so. That gap is costing you quotes.

Container World Offshore supplies DNV 2.7-1 and EN 12079 certified offshore equipment to oil, gas and marine operators across Africa and beyond, backed by an established group operating since 1983, multiple branches, and an extensive certified product range. That is exactly the credibility an international industrial buyer is looking for.

But the current site is a thin brochure: products are reduced to one-line teasers with a "Read More", there is no real quote path (only a generic "Contact Us"), and there are no trust signals at all, no certifications shown as badges, no "since 1983", no countries served, no proof. A high-value buyer comparing certified suppliers lands, cannot self-qualify or request a quote on specific units, and leaves. This is a clear, high-leverage B2B conversion gap.

What we are proposing

A complete rebuild that does two jobs at once: it presents Container World Offshore as the credible, certified, internationally-relevant supplier it actually is, and it makes requesting a quote effortless. Every page is built to lead a serious buyer toward a quote on specific units, with a persistent GET A QUOTE action as the primary route throughout the site.

A real quote path, not a generic contact form

We build a purpose-built quote system: a prominent, persistent GET A QUOTE button in the header and on every product, leading to a quote form with the fields a buyer actually needs (product type, quantity, certification, destination port or country, hire or buy, timeline). "Contact" becomes the secondary action. This is the single biggest lever for more qualified leads, and we are leaning into it hard.

You can see the direction live. The concept mockup (seth-gorton.github.io/searchly-mockups/containerworld-offshore) shows the look, feel and structure, built around your blue and red brand and real product imagery. It is a concept to react to, not the finished website. Final product detail, copy and certification content are confirmed with you during the build.

What we will improve

A goal-first rebuild around GET A QUOTE: real product pages, strong trust, a buyer-led hero, clean localisation, and a faster, lighter site, all in your blue and red brand.

01 A purpose-built quote system

A persistent GET A QUOTE action everywhere, leading to a quote form built around what a buyer needs to specify, so enquiries arrive qualified.

02 Real product pages

Proper detail for each unit: specifications, dimensions, payloads, certification badges and photo galleries, with a "Quote this product" button on each.

03 Strong B2B trust and credentials

A credibility band: since 1983, DNV 2.7-1 and EN 12079 certified, branches, countries served, plus DNV and Lloyd's Register recognition surfaced as marks.

04 A buyer-led hero

Led by the buyer's decision criteria: certified, ex-stock in Cape Town, fast lead times, Africa-wide coverage, with the quote CTA right there.

05 Proper multilingual handling

Clean language switching for English, French and Portuguese, so Francophone and Lusophone buyers get a fully-translated experience, not stacked blocks on one page.

06 A faster, lighter rebuild

A lean, fast site that keeps your blue and red brand, replacing the heavy theme stack so pages load quickly on the connections that matter in Africa.

Final page structure and product set are confirmed with you during the build. Pages can be added, combined or renamed to fit how Container World Offshore wants to present itself.

Every page is built with the essentials in place

✓ Quote-first

A persistent GET A QUOTE action within reach on every page and device.

✓ Trust built in

Certifications, years in business and coverage shown where buyers decide.

✓ Fast loading

Lightweight and quick, which helps visitors and search ranking.

✓ Credible by design

A professional look that matches the seriousness of your equipment.

✓ Easy to update

Built so you can add products and edit content without a developer.

✓ Tracking installed

See exactly how many quote requests the site brings in.

What is included

A complete, custom-designed, multi-page website built around your products and your branding, not an off-the-shelf template.

The concept shows the style on a single page. The website we deliver is a full set of custom-built pages, each designed with a clear purpose and an obvious path to a quote:

01 Home

A buyer-led hero (certified, ex-stock, fast lead times, Africa coverage), a trust band, and an immediate GET A QUOTE action.

02 Products overview

A clear map of the certified range: reefers, cargo baskets, gas racks, tanks, skips, deck offices, rigging lofts and more, each linking to detail.

03 Product detail pages

Specifications, dimensions, certification badges and galleries per unit, with a per-product "Quote this product" button (great for SEO and clarity).

04 About / The Company

Since 1983, the parent group, certifications, and the credibility that wins international B2B work.

05 Coverage

An honest "we ship across Africa from Cape Town, ex-stock" coverage view with ports and lead times, replacing the broken locations stubs.

06 Get a Quote

A purpose-built quote form with the right qualifying fields, a clear reply promise, plus phone and WhatsApp click-to-chat.

07 Contact

A single clear sales route, presented professionally on the offshore domain.

08 Your branding throughout

Your blue and red brand, logo and typography applied consistently across every page, with one standardised blue.

Final page structure is confirmed with you during the build. Pages can be added, combined or renamed to fit how Container World Offshore wants to present itself.

How we build it

Three things set our websites apart: they convert, they put a real quote path first, and they are built to be found.

Built to convert (conversion rate optimisation)

"Conversion" means a visitor taking the action you want, in your case, requesting a quote on specific units. We design the site so a much higher share of buyers actually request a quote instead of leaving: a buyer-led message, certifications and trust shown where decisions are made, friction removed, and an obvious next step on every page. After launch we keep watching the numbers and tuning to lift that share further.

GET A QUOTE as the primary action

For an industrial buyer comparing certified suppliers, the desired action is a quote on specific products and quantities, not a chat. We make GET A QUOTE impossible to miss: a persistent header button and a per-product quote button that pre-fills the form, so a serious buyer can request a quote in seconds. We keep phone and WhatsApp as supporting routes, but the quote system is the hero, not WhatsApp.

Built to be found: SEO fundamentals baked in

Searchly Web is the website arm of Searchly, a Google Ads and SEO focused agency. Search is what we do, so your website is built on solid SEO fundamentals from the very first line of code:

- ✓ Clean, fast, semantically structured code search engines can read easily
- ✓ Substantive per-product pages targeting how buyers actually search ("DNV offshore containers", "certified cargo baskets")
- ✓ Proper multilingual handling (hreflang, localised paths) for Francophone and Lusophone markets
- ✓ Product and organisation schema plus a crawlable structure that give you the best foundation to rank

This groundwork means your site is ready to perform in organic search and makes any future SEO or Google Ads work, through our sister agency Searchly, far more effective.

Built so you can see what works

We install analytics and conversion tracking so every quote request is measured, turning your website from a brochure into a tool you can improve, and powering smarter marketing decisions later.

Ownership, hosting and domain

You own your website outright. We make the technical side simple, even though hosting is not something we provide.

✓ The website is yours

Once the project is complete and paid, the website belongs entirely to Container World Offshore. No monthly fee to Searchly, no lock-in. It is your asset.

✓ You stay in control

Your hosting and domain stay in your name with your provider. That is deliberately better for you: full ownership and never dependent on us to stay online.

To be completely clear: Searchly Web does not provide hosting. Hosting (the service that keeps your website online) and your domain (containerworldoffshore.com) are held directly with a hosting provider. They are an ongoing cost paid to that provider, not to us, and are not included in the build fee.

But you will not be left to figure it out

While we do not sell hosting, we will assist you through the entire process. We will:

- ✓ Advise you on a suitable hosting setup, in plain language
- ✓ Set your new website up on your hosting account
- ✓ Point your domain correctly so your web address works as it should
- ✓ Make sure the site goes live properly, securely and without downtime

The good news on cost: hosting and a domain are not expensive, and we will confirm the exact, modest figure with you so there are no surprises.

WEBSITE PROPOSAL · JUNE 2026

A new website for Self Storage CW

A fast, modern, multi-location website for your self-storage branches, with published pricing, a location-routed quote form, and a clear path to reserve, built to turn searchers into enquiries across all four cities.

Prepared for the team at Self Storage CW

Searchly Web

Fast, high-converting websites for South African businesses

Seth Gorton

sethg@searchly.co.za · searchlyweb.co.za

The opportunity

Self Storage CW is a real multi-location operator, the self-storage arm of Container World, renting secure converted-container units across four cities: Durban, Polokwane, Midrand and Nelspruit. The website does not yet reflect that strength.

Today the entire public presence is a single, thin page. It does not publish what a unit costs, it runs one generic enquiry form for all four cities, it has no dedicated page per location, and it shows no reviews or trust proof at all. For a trust-led purchase like storage, where the first question is always "what does it cost and is my stuff safe?", that quietly sends ready-to-rent visitors to competitors who answer those questions on the page.

What we are proposing

A complete rebuild as a fast, modern, multi-location lead-generation site: one indexable landing page per branch, transparent pricing, a quote form that routes to the right city, sticky call and WhatsApp, and a clear "how it works to reserve" path. Every page is designed to lead a serious enquirer to one action: GET A QUOTE and reserve a unit, kept in your familiar blue and red brand.

The single biggest lever: publish your pricing

Storage shoppers compare on price first. Right now your prices (from R700 per month for top-level units, from R950 for ground-floor) are hidden away on a separate Midrand microsite. We bring them onto the main site and every location page, sitting right next to a "Get a quote" button, so visitors qualify themselves instead of bouncing to a rival who shows the number.

You have already seen the direction. The live concept mockup (seth-gorton.github.io/searchly-mockups/selfstorage-cw) shows the look, feel and structure. The current photos in it are your existing assets used as placeholders. As soon as we have fresh branch photography, we apply it so each location looks unmistakably like its real site. It is a concept to react to, not the finished website.

What we will improve

We audited your current site against one question: does it help a visitor get a quote and reserve a unit? These are the fixes that will move the needle most.

- ✓ Publish clear pricing. A simple, honest pricing block (from R700 per month for top-level units, from R950 for ground-floor, with what is included) on the homepage and every location page, next to a reserve action.
- ✓ Location-routed quote form and per-location landing pages. A page for each branch (Durban, Polokwane, Midrand, Nelspruit) with its own address, map, photos, price, hours and contacts, and a form that routes the lead to the correct branch inbox. Far better local SEO and a clean message-match for Google Ads.
- ✓ A prominent GET A QUOTE / reserve action. An obvious primary call to action on every page and a sticky call and WhatsApp bar, so a hot lead reaches the right branch in seconds rather than hunting in the footer.
- ✓ How it works and a size guide. A clear 3 to 4 step "how to reserve" path and a "what fits in a unit" guide, so first-time renters can self-qualify and you receive better, more confident enquiries.
- ✓ Trust and security proof. We surface the things that win a trust purchase: 24-hour monitored security (CCTV, electric fencing, access control), the steel anti-vandal, watertight, vermin-proof build, the Container World heritage, and Google reviews and testimonials once gathered.
- ✓ A fast, modern rebuild in your brand. A lightweight, responsive site that keeps your blue and red identity, replaces the dated 2019 layout, and loads quickly for both visitors and search.

One quick win we will fix on day one. The live site's page title currently reads "A Self Storage Experience of Trust & Tafety", a visible typo ("Tafety") that hurts both credibility and search. We correct it as part of the rebuild, along with rewriting the hero to lead with the concrete promise: secure 20ft container units across four cities, from R700 per month, 24/7 monitored.

What is included

A full, custom-designed multi-location website, built around your branches and your branding, not an off-the-shelf template.

The concept shows the style on a single page. The website we deliver is a complete set of custom-built pages, each designed with a clear purpose and an obvious path to a quote:

01 Home

A strong first impression with the concrete promise, published pricing, instant quote and contact, and a clear overview of the offer.

02 Location pages (x4)

Durban, Polokwane, Midrand and Nelspruit, each its own indexable page with address, map, photos, price, hours and routed form.

03 How it works

A simple step-by-step reserve path ending in the primary call to action, so first-time renters know exactly what to do.

04 Pricing & size guide

Transparent unit pricing and a "what fits in a unit" guide so visitors self-qualify before they enquire.

05 About / Why Self Storage CW

The Container World heritage, the build quality, and the security proof that wins a trust purchase.

06 FAQ

Access, lease terms, notice, security and insurance, with reassurance right at the decision point.

07 Get a quote / Contact

The location-routed quote form, plus call and WhatsApp per branch, all designed for action.

08 Your branding throughout

Your blue and red identity, logo and typography applied consistently across every page.

Final page structure is confirmed with you during the build. Pages can be added, combined or renamed to fit how Self Storage CW wants to present each branch.

How we build it

Three things set our websites apart: they convert, they make getting a quote effortless, and they are built to be found.

Built to convert (conversion rate optimisation)

"Conversion" means a visitor taking the action you want, in your case, getting a quote to reserve a unit. We design the site so a much higher share of visitors actually enquire instead of leaving: published pricing, the right trust signals, friction removed, and an obvious next step on every page. After launch we keep watching the numbers, per branch, and tuning to lift that share further.

Get a quote as the primary action

The whole site points to one thing: a quick, easy quote. We make the "Get a quote" button impossible to miss and back it with a sticky call and WhatsApp bar, with the right branch contact for the visitor's city. WhatsApp and a quick call are how South African storage enquirers prefer to reach a business, so we make both effortless, while the quote form stays the clear primary path that captures the lead and routes it correctly.

Built to be found: SEO fundamentals baked in

Searchly Web is the website arm of Searchly, a Google Ads and SEO focused agency. Search is what we do, so your website is built on solid SEO fundamentals from the very first line of code:

- ✓ A dedicated, indexable landing page per city, the single biggest local-SEO win for a four-branch operator
- ✓ Pages targeting how people actually search ("self storage Durban", "container storage Midrand", and each city)
- ✓ LocalBusiness structured data and a clean, crawlable structure so each branch can rank in its area
- ✓ Fast, lightweight code that supports both organic ranking and Google Ads Quality Score

This groundwork means the site is ready to perform in organic search and makes any future SEO or Google Ads work far more effective.

Tracking that earns its place (important for your Ads spend)

Much of your traffic is likely Google Ads driven, so clean measurement is not optional. We install GA4 and conversion tracking on the quote form so every enquiry is counted, and tagged to the right branch and campaign. That turns your website into a tool you can improve, and means each city's Ads spend is guided by real data rather than guesswork.

Ownership, hosting and domain

You own your website outright. We make the technical side simple, even though hosting is not something we provide.

✓ The website is yours

Once the project is complete and paid, the website belongs entirely to Self Storage CW. No monthly fee to Searchly, no lock-in. It is your asset.

✓ You stay in control

Your hosting and domain stay in your name with your provider. That is deliberately better for you: full ownership and never dependent on us to stay online.

To be completely clear: Searchly Web does not provide hosting. Hosting (the service that keeps your website online) and your domain (your web address, selfstoragecw.co.za) are held directly with a hosting provider. They are an ongoing cost paid to that provider, not to us, and are not included in the build fee.

But you will not be left to figure it out

While we do not sell hosting, we will assist you through the entire process. We will:

- ✓ Advise you on a suitable hosting setup, in plain language
- ✓ Set your new website up on your hosting account
- ✓ Point your domain correctly so your web address works as it should
- ✓ Make sure the site goes live properly, securely and without downtime

The good news on cost: hosting and a domain are not expensive, typically around R1 000 a year, and we will confirm the exact, modest figure with you so there are no surprises.

WEBSITE PROPOSAL · JUNE 2026

A new website for Self Storage CW Midrand

A fast, modern, conversion-led landing page for your Midrand storage facility, built to turn the visitors you are already paying for into quote enquiries, with click-to-call, clear pricing and trust front and centre.

Prepared for the team at Self Storage CW Midrand

Searchly Web

Fast, high-converting websites for South African businesses

Seth Gorton

sethg@searchly.co.za · searchlyweb.co.za

The opportunity

Your Midrand page is a single-location landing page in the Container World group, and it is almost certainly receiving Google Ads traffic. The problem is not that people are not arriving. It is that the page is quietly letting them leave.

We audited the live site in detail. It carries genuinely good raw material: a secure, floodlit, CCTV-monitored facility, real container photos, and honest pricing from R700 a month. But the page works against itself in a handful of ways that each cost you enquiries:

- ✓ The phone link is broken, so on mobile, tapping the number does nothing. A primary way to enquire is simply dead.
- ✓ The hero is an off-message stock photo (a man behind a desk fan) with a vague pun, instead of your real, secure containers, your location and your price.
- ✓ The only enquiry form is buried at the very bottom of a long page, with a stray validation label leaking into it and no reassurance about what happens next.
- ✓ Pricing is shown excl VAT only, with no inc-VAT figure and no size guide, which reads as a hidden cost and leaves the buyer guessing what fits.
- ✓ There is no map and no social proof: no exact Midrand address to confirm where they would store, and zero reviews or trust signals on what is fundamentally a trust purchase.

In short, you are likely paying for clicks that the page then fails to convert. That is the single best kind of problem to fix, because the demand already exists. We just need to capture more of it.

You can react to the direction before committing. We have built a live concept mockup so you can see the look, feel and structure of the rebuilt page. It keeps your blue and red brand, uses your real container photos, and shows how the page should convert. It is a concept to react to, not the finished website, and exact copy, pricing and details are confirmed with you during the build.

What we will improve

A focused rebuild of the Midrand page, designed around one job: getting more visitors to request a quote or reserve a unit.

We keep what is working (your brand, your real photos, your honest pricing) and fix what is leaking enquiries. Each change below maps directly to a problem we found in the audit:

01 Location-specific hero that sells

A real container photo, a Midrand headline and the price, with a short quote form right there above the fold.

02 Quote form above the fold

A short form (name, phone, unit need, move-in date) in the hero, plus reassurance on response time at the form.

03 Fixed click-to-call

The broken phone link corrected and made a sticky tap-to-call on mobile, so the number always works.

04 Clear pricing and a size guide

Pricing shown clearly, top-level versus ground-floor compared, and a simple "what fits" guide so the buyer self-selects.

05 Security and trust band

Your electric fence, CCTV, fire protection and floodlit site turned into a visual security band that earns trust.

06 Embedded map and directions

The exact Midrand site address with an embedded Google Map, so a searcher can confirm where they would store.

07 Reassurance at the form

A clear submit label and a "we will reply within one business hour" line, removing the last bit of hesitation.

08 Fast, modern rebuild

A lean, quick-loading page that keeps your blue and red brand and reads as a credible, secure facility.

Final structure and copy are confirmed with you during the build. Sections can be added, combined or reordered to fit how the Midrand facility wants to present itself.

Every part of the page is built with the essentials in place

✓ Quote-first

Get a quote or reserve a unit is the primary action on every screen.

✓ Mobile-first

Looks sharp and works perfectly on phones, where storage searches happen.

✓ Fast loading

Lightweight and quick, which helps visitors and search ranking alike.

✓ Built on trust

Security, location and reassurance designed to win a storage decision.

✓ On brand

✓ Tracking installed

How we build it

Three things set our pages apart: they convert, they make enquiring effortless, and they are built to be found.

Built to convert (conversion rate optimisation)

"Conversion" means a visitor taking the action you want, in your case, requesting a quote or reserving a unit. We design the page so a much higher share of the visitors you are already paying for actually enquire instead of leaving: a strong hero, clear pricing, the right trust signals, friction removed, and an obvious next step on every screen. Get a quote and reserve a unit are the primary action throughout, with calling as a clear secondary path, not a WhatsApp-led page.

The quote form is the hero, with calling close behind

For a single-location storage page, the fastest win is a short quote form above the fold backed by a working tap-to-call. We make requesting a quote the easiest thing on the page, and we fix the broken phone link so a buyer who would rather call can reach you in one tap. Less friction means more enquiries, and more enquiries mean more units rented.

Built to be found: SEO fundamentals baked in

Searchly Web is the website arm of Searchly, a Google Ads and SEO focused agency. Search is what our sister agency does, so your page is built on solid SEO fundamentals from the very first line of code:

- ✓ Clean, fast, semantically structured code search engines can read easily
- ✓ Copy targeting how customers actually search ("self storage Midrand", "storage units Midrand", and nearby areas)
- ✓ Local SEO signals so you show up for storage searches in your area
- ✓ Structured data and a crawlable structure that give you the best foundation to rank

This groundwork means the page is ready to perform in organic search and makes your Google Ads spend work harder, because the page it lands on actually converts.

Built so you can see what works

We install analytics (GA4) and Google Ads conversion tracking so every quote enquiry and call is measured. That turns the page from a brochure into a tool you can improve, and lets your Ads budget be spent on what actually brings in renters.

Ownership, hosting and domain

You own your website outright. We make the technical side simple, even though hosting is not something we provide.

✓ The website is yours

Once the project is complete and paid, the page belongs entirely to you. No monthly fee to Searchly, no lock-in. It is your asset.

✓ You stay in control

Your hosting and domain stay in your name with your provider. That is deliberately better for you: full ownership and never dependent on us to stay online.

To be completely clear: Searchly Web does not provide hosting. Hosting (the service that keeps your website online) and your domain (your web address, selfstoragecwmidrand.co.za) are held directly with a hosting provider. They are an ongoing cost paid to that provider, not to us, and are not included in the R5 000 build fee.

But you will not be left to figure it out

While we do not sell hosting, we will assist you through the entire process. We will:

- ✓ Advise you on a suitable hosting setup, in plain language
- ✓ Set your new page up on your hosting account
- ✓ Point your domain correctly so your web address works as it should
- ✓ Make sure the site goes live properly, securely and without downtime

The good news on cost: hosting and a domain are not expensive, typically around R1 000 a year, and we will confirm the exact, modest figure with you so there are no surprises.

WEBSITE PROPOSAL · JUNE 2026

A new website for Self Storage CW Durban

A fast, modern, conversion-first website dedicated to your Durban branch, designed to capture local search demand and turn it into quote requests, in the Self Storage CW brand, with SEO baked in.

Prepared for the team at Self Storage CW

Searchly Web

Fast, high-converting websites for South African businesses

Seth Gorton

sethg@searchly.co.za · searchlyweb.co.za

The opportunity in Durban

Self Storage CW already serves Durban, but it has no dedicated, conversion-built local website. People searching for storage in Durban land on a thin, shared national page that does not speak to them, does not show local pricing, and does not make enquiring easy.

When someone in Durban searches "self storage Durban", they expect a Durban address, a map, local prices and an obvious way to get a quote. A generic shared page gives them none of that, so many of them bounce to a competitor who shows it. A standalone Durban site fixes that: it captures the local search demand you are already attracting and converts it into real quote requests, instead of relying on a page that was never built to convert.

What we are proposing

A brand-new, dedicated website for the Durban branch, built from scratch in the Self Storage CW brand. It does one job well: it turns Durban searchers into quote requests. Every section is designed to answer the visitor's questions (what does it cost, is it secure, where is it, how do I start) and lead them straight to a quote, with no friction in the way.

Get a quote, made effortless

We put a quote form right in the hero and keep a clear "Get a Quote" call to action within reach on every screen. A Durban enquirer can ask about a unit in seconds, with the branch phone and details ready to go. This is the single biggest lever for more enquiries, and the whole site is built around it.

You can already see the direction. The live concept mockup (seth-gorton.github.io/searchly-mockups/selfstorage-durban) shows the look, feel and structure for the Durban site. The photography in it uses your existing images as placeholders. As we build, we apply fresh, higher-quality Durban facility photos and your final details so it becomes unmistakably your branch. It is a concept to react to, not the finished website.

What we will build for you

A brand-new, custom-designed Durban landing site in your blue-and-red brand, built from scratch around getting quotes, not an off-the-shelf template.

This is a new build, not a tweak to an existing page, so it takes as much work and care as a full redesign. The concept shows the style; the site we deliver is a complete, conversion-first Durban page with every section built for a clear purpose:

01 Hero with quote form

A strong Durban-specific first impression with the quote form right there, so enquiring is the easiest thing to do.

02 Clear pricing

Transparent monthly pricing up front: from R700 and from R950 per month, with what is included, so visitors do not have to enquire blind.

03 Size guide

A simple guide to what fits in a unit, so visitors self-qualify and request the right size with confidence.

04 How it works

A short, clear path from choosing a unit to moving in, so a first-time renter knows exactly what to do.

05 Security & trust band

24-hour security, steel anti-vandal units and the Container World heritage (since 1983), the proof a storage buyer needs.

06 Embedded map & directions

The Durban location on an embedded map with directions, so visitors can find you and trust you are real and local.

07 Quote & contact

The Durban branch phone, email and the quote form, all designed to make getting in touch effortless.

08 Your branding throughout

The Self Storage CW logo, blue-and-red palette and typography applied consistently across the whole page.

Final structure is confirmed with you during the build. Sections can be added, combined or reordered to fit how the Durban branch wants to present itself.

Every part of the site is built with the essentials in place

✓ Quote-first

A clear "Get a Quote" path always within reach, on every section and device.

How we build it

Three things set our websites apart: they convert, they make getting a quote effortless, and they are built to be found in local search.

Built to convert (conversion rate optimisation)

"Conversion" means a visitor taking the action you want, in your case, requesting a quote to reserve a unit. We design the site so a much higher share of Durban visitors actually enquire instead of leaving: clear pricing, the right trust signals, friction removed, and an obvious next step in every section. We make "Get a Quote" or "Reserve" the primary action, kept front and centre rather than tucked behind a WhatsApp link. After launch we keep watching the numbers and tuning to lift that share further.

Get a quote as the primary action

For a storage branch, speed and ease of enquiry win the booking. We make requesting a quote impossible to miss: a quote form in the hero, clear "Get a Quote" and "Reserve" buttons throughout, and the Durban branch details ready beside the form. Less friction means more enquiries, and more enquiries mean more units rented.

Built to be found: local Durban SEO baked in

Searchly Web is the website arm of Searchly, a Google Ads and SEO focused agency. Search is what we do, so your Durban site is built on solid SEO fundamentals from the very first line of code:

- ✓ Clean, fast, semantically structured code search engines can read easily
- ✓ A dedicated, indexable Durban page targeting how people actually search ("self storage Durban", "storage units Durban")
- ✓ Local SEO signals and LocalBusiness data so you show up for storage searches in Durban
- ✓ Structured data and a crawlable structure that give you the best foundation to rank

This groundwork means the site is ready to perform in organic search and makes any Google Ads work far more effective, with a Durban page that matches a Durban search.

Built so you can see what works

We install analytics and conversion tracking so every quote request is measured, turning your website from a brochure into a tool you can improve, and powering smarter marketing decisions later.

Ownership, hosting and domain

You own your website outright. We make the technical side simple, even though hosting is not something we provide.

✓ The website is yours

Once the project is complete and paid, the website belongs entirely to Self Storage CW. No monthly fee to Searchly, no lock-in. It is your asset.

✓ You stay in control

Your hosting and domain stay in your name with your provider. That is deliberately better for you: full ownership and never dependent on us to stay online.

To be completely clear: Searchly Web does not provide hosting. Hosting (the service that keeps your website online) and your domain (your web address) are held directly with a hosting provider. They are an ongoing cost paid to that provider, not to us, and are not included in the R5 000 build fee.

But you will not be left to figure it out

While we do not sell hosting, we will assist you through the entire process. We will:

- ✓ Advise you on a suitable hosting setup, in plain language
- ✓ Set your new website up on your hosting account
- ✓ Point your domain correctly so your web address works as it should

The good news on cost: hosting and a domain are not expensive, typically around R1 000 a year, and we will confirm the exact, modest figure with you so there are no surprises.

WEBSITE PROPOSAL · JUNE 2026

A new website for Self Storage CW Nelspruit

A fast, modern, conversion-built local website for your Nelspruit branch, designed to capture local storage demand and turn it into quote requests, with a clear price, real trust signals and SEO baked in.

Searchly Web

Fast, high-converting websites for South African businesses

The opportunity in Nelspruit

People in Nelspruit (Mbombela) are searching for self storage right now, comparing options on their phones, looking for a price, a location and a reason to trust you. Self Storage CW serves them, but has no dedicated, conversion-built local website to win that search.

Today the Nelspruit branch shares one national page with three other cities. A person searching "self storage Nelspruit" lands on a generic page with no Nelspruit price, no Nelspruit map, no Nelspruit photos and no clear next step. That is local demand leaking to whichever competitor shows up better online. A standalone Nelspruit site fixes exactly that: it captures local search demand and turns it into quote requests for your branch.

What we are proposing

A brand-new, dedicated website for the Nelspruit branch that does two jobs at once: it presents Self Storage CW as a secure, trusted local storage provider, and it makes requesting a quote effortless. Every page is built to lead a local enquirer toward one clear action: GET A QUOTE.

GET A QUOTE, front and centre

The whole site is built around one primary action: a quote request. A short quote form lives in the hero and repeats down the page, with click-to-call alongside it for people who would rather phone. We remove every bit of friction between "I need storage in Nelspruit" and "here are my details", so more visitors actually enquire instead of leaving.

You can already see the direction. The live concept mockup (seth-gorton.github.io/searchly-mockups/selfstorage-nelspruit/) shows the look, feel and structure in the Self Storage CW blue-and-red brand. The current photos are placeholders pulled from the existing site. As soon as you send fresh Nelspruit branch and unit photography, we apply it so the site is unmistakably your branch. It is a concept to react to, not the finished website.

What we will build for you

A complete, brand-new website built from scratch for the Nelspruit branch. This is a full build, not a tweak, it is as much work as a redesign, designed around your units, your price and your brand.

The site is a fast, modern, conversion-first Nelspruit landing site in the Self Storage CW brand (blue and red), built around the things a local renter actually needs to see before they enquire:

01 Hero with a quote form

The concrete promise (secure 20ft container units in Nelspruit, 24-hour security) with a short GET A QUOTE form right there.

02 Clear pricing

From R700 / month (top-level) and from R950 / month (ground-floor), shown openly so visitors do not bounce to a competitor who shows a price.

03 Size guide

What fits in a unit, so renters self-qualify and you get fewer wrong-size enquiries.

04 How it works

A simple 3 to 4 step path (choose, get a quote, sign, move in) that ends in the primary CTA.

05 Security & trust band

24-hour security, electric fencing, CCTV, steel anti-vandal units, backed by Container World since 1983.

06 Embedded map & directions

A live map for the Nelspruit branch with directions, hours and click-to-call.

07 Quote / contact section

The main quote form plus phone and email, with objection answers right beside it.

08 Your branding throughout

The Self Storage CW logo, blue-and-red palette and your real photos applied across the page.

Final structure is confirmed with you during the build. Sections can be added, combined or reordered to fit how the Nelspruit branch wants to present itself.

Every section is built with the essentials in place

✓ Quote-first

GET A QUOTE always within reach, on every section and device.

✓ Mobile-first

Looks sharp and works perfectly on phones and tablets.

Lightweight and quick, which helps visitors and search ranking.

✓ Trust by design

Security and heritage signals that reassure a first-time renter.

✓ Local SEO ready

Built to show up for storage searches in Nelspruit.

✓ Tracking installed

How we build it

Three things set our websites apart: they convert, they drive quote requests rather than aimless clicks, and they are built to be found.

Built to convert (conversion rate optimisation)

"Conversion" means a visitor taking the action you want, in your case, requesting a quote for a unit. We design the site so a much higher share of visitors actually enquire instead of leaving: a clear price up front, the right trust signals, a simple "how it works", friction removed, and an obvious GET A QUOTE on every section. After launch we keep watching the numbers and tuning to lift that share further.

GET A QUOTE as the primary action (not WhatsApp)

For storage, the lead you want is a qualified quote request you can follow up and convert into a signed unit. So we make the quote the hero of the site, a short form in the hero and repeated down the page, with click-to-call alongside it. We lead with the quote rather than WhatsApp so every enquiry lands as a real, trackable lead with the details you need to respond fast and reserve the unit.

Built to be found: SEO fundamentals baked in

Searchly Web is the website arm of Searchly, a Google Ads and SEO focused agency. Search is what our sister agency does, so your website is built on solid SEO fundamentals from the very first line of code:

- ✓ Clean, fast, semantically structured code search engines can read easily
- ✓ Content targeting how local renters actually search ("self storage Nelspruit", "storage units Mbombela")
- ✓ Local SEO signals and LocalBusiness data so you show up for storage searches in Nelspruit
- ✓ Structured data and a crawlable page that give you the best foundation to rank

This groundwork means your site is ready to perform in organic search and makes any future SEO or Google Ads work far more effective, and far cheaper per lead.

Built so you can see what works

We install analytics and conversion tracking so every quote request is measured, turning your website from a brochure into a tool you can improve, and powering smarter marketing decisions later.

Ownership, hosting and domain

You own your website outright. We make the technical side simple, even though hosting is not something we provide.

✓ The website is yours

To be completely clear: Searchly Web does not provide hosting. Hosting (the service that keeps your website online) and your domain (your web address) are held directly with a hosting provider. They are an ongoing cost paid to that provider, not to us, and are not included in the R5 000 build fee.

But you will not be left to figure it out

While we do not sell hosting, we will assist you through the entire process. We will:

- ✓ Advise you on a suitable hosting setup, in plain language
- ✓ Set your new website up on your hosting account
- ✓ Point your domain correctly so your web address works as it should
- ✓ Make sure the site goes live properly, securely and without downtime

The good news on cost: hosting and a domain are not expensive, typically around R1 000 a year, and we will confirm the exact, modest figure with you so there are no surprises.

WEBSITE PROPOSAL · JUNE 2026

A new website for Self Storage CW Polokwane

A fast, modern, conversion-built website dedicated to your Polokwane branch, designed to capture local search demand and turn it into quote requests, in the Self Storage CW brand.

Prepared for the team at Self Storage CW

Searchly Web

Fast, high-converting websites for South African businesses

Seth Gorton

sethg@searchly.co.za · searchlyweb.co.za

The opportunity in Polokwane

People in Polokwane are searching for self storage right now, and there is no dedicated, conversion-built website ready to catch them. That is demand walking past your door.

Self Storage CW already serves Polokwane with secure, well-located container storage units. What it does not yet have is a standalone Polokwane website built to win the local search. When someone types "self storage Polokwane" or "storage units in Polokwane", they should land on a page that is unmistakably about Polokwane: your address, your prices, your security, your map, and an obvious way to get a quote.

A single national page cannot do that job well. It does not match what the searcher typed, it does not show local detail, and it does not convert. A dedicated Polokwane site closes that gap. It captures the local demand, answers the price question up front, and turns a curious visitor into a quote request, which is exactly the action that grows the branch.

What we are proposing

A complete, brand-new website built from scratch for the Polokwane branch. This is a full build, every bit as much work as a redesign, designed to do two jobs at once: win the local Polokwane search, and convert that traffic into quote requests. Every section is built to move a serious enquirer toward one clear action: GET A QUOTE.

Get a quote, the primary action throughout

The whole site points to one thing: getting a quote for a unit. A hero quote form sits front and centre, with clear "Get a quote" calls to action on every section, so a visitor can ask about a unit in seconds. This single, focused path is the biggest lever for more enquiries, and we are building the site around it.

See it before you decide. We have built a live concept mockup so you can react to the look, feel and structure: seth-gorton.github.io/searchly-mockups/selfstorage-polokwane. It uses the Self Storage CW brand colours (blue and red) and existing imagery as placeholders. Once you send fresh Polokwane photography and any updated assets, we apply them so the site is unmistakably your branch. It is a concept to react to, not the finished website.

What we will build for you

A fast, modern, conversion-first Polokwane landing site in the Self Storage CW brand, blue and red, built from scratch to win the local search and capture quote requests.

This is a brand-new build, designed section by section around the Polokwane visitor and the one action that matters. The site brings together everything a local storage shopper needs to feel confident enough to enquire:

01 Hero with quote form

A strong first impression that states the promise (secure units in Polokwane, from R700/month) with the quote form right there.

02 Clear pricing

Transparent rates up front: from R700/month for top-level units and R950/month for ground-floor, with what is included.

03 Size guide

What fits in a unit, so visitors self-qualify and ask about the right size, fewer wrong enquiries.

04 How it works

A simple step-by-step path from choosing a unit to moving in, ending in a clear get-a-quote prompt.

05 Security & trust band

24-hour security, steel anti-vandal units, and the strength of Container World behind you (since 1983).

06 Embedded map & directions

A live map of the Polokwane branch so visitors can find you and trust there is a real, local facility.

07 Quote & contact

The quote form, click-to-call and the Polokwane branch details, all designed for action.

08 Your branding throughout

The Self Storage CW logo, blue-and-red palette and brand feel applied across the whole page.

Final structure is confirmed with you during the build. Sections can be added, combined or reordered to fit how Self Storage CW Polokwane wants to present itself.

Built with the essentials in place

The quote form and clear calls to action are always within reach.

✓ Mobile-first

How we build it

Three things set our websites apart: they convert, they put getting a quote first, and they are built to be found in local search.

Built to convert (conversion rate optimisation)

"Conversion" means a visitor taking the action you want, in your case, getting a quote for a unit. We design the site so a much higher share of visitors actually enquire instead of leaving: transparent pricing that answers the first objection, the right trust signals, friction removed, and an obvious next step on every section. After launch we keep watching the numbers and tuning to lift that share further.

Get a quote as the primary action (not WhatsApp)

For a storage branch, a qualified quote request is the lead that turns into a rental. We make GET A QUOTE the hero of the site: a quote form in the hero, clear get-a-quote buttons on every section, and click-to-call alongside. The whole journey funnels toward that single action, so a serious enquirer gives you exactly what you need to follow up and close. Less friction means more quote requests, and more quote requests mean more units rented.

Built to be found: local Polokwane SEO baked in

Searchly Web is the website arm of Searchly, a Google Ads and SEO focused agency. Search is what we do, so your Polokwane site is built on solid SEO fundamentals from the very first line of code:

- ✓ Clean, fast, semantically structured code that search engines read easily
- ✓ A page built around how people actually search ("self storage Polokwane", "storage units Polokwane")
- ✓ Local SEO signals, address, map and LocalBusiness structured data, so you show up for storage searches in Polokwane
- ✓ A crawlable structure that gives the branch the best foundation to rank locally

This groundwork means the Polokwane site is ready to perform in organic search and makes any future SEO or Google Ads work far more effective.

Built so you can see what works

We install analytics and conversion tracking so every quote request is measured, turning the website from a brochure into a tool you can improve, and powering smarter marketing decisions later.

Ownership, hosting and domain

You own your website outright. We make the technical side simple, even though hosting is not something we provide.

✓ The website is yours

Once the project is complete and paid, the website belongs entirely to Self Storage CW. No monthly fee to Searchly, no lock-in. It is your asset.

✓ You stay in control

Your hosting and domain stay in your name with your provider. That is deliberately better for you: full ownership and never dependent on us to stay online.

To be completely clear: Searchly Web does not provide hosting. Hosting (the service that keeps your website online) and your domain (your web address) are held directly with a hosting provider. They are an ongoing cost paid to that provider, not to us, and are not included in the R5 000 build fee.

But you will not be left to figure it out

While we do not sell hosting, we will assist you through the entire process. We will:

- ✓ Advise you on a suitable hosting setup, in plain language
- ✓ Set your new Polokwane website up on your hosting account
- ✓ Point your domain correctly so your web address works as it should
- ✓ Make sure the site goes live properly, securely and without downtime

The good news on cost: hosting and a domain are not expensive, typically around R1 000 a year, and we will confirm the exact, modest figure with you so there are no surprises.
